

DRJ Online Solutions monthly web seminars are designed to inform and educate individuals in the business continuity, disaster recovery, and related industries.

Programs include business topics as well as technical and commercial presentations created to help you plan for any business interruption more effectively, efficiently, and economically.

Webinars have been around for some time, but typically only the largest organizations were able to utilize this quick growing communication tool. Now DRJ offers a system that allows everyone a chance at this technology. We have various packages available.

 Option 1: 60 minute Webinar on your approved topic. Listed in DRJ's Calendar of Webcast Events and DRJ's Print Ad Campaign. Cost: $1000 + $.13/minutes per caller*

 Option 2: 60 minute Webinar on your approved topic. Listed in DRJ's Calendar of Webcast Events and DRJ's Print Ad Campaign, broadcast to entire list 1 time. Cost: $6000 + $.13/minutes per caller*

 Option 3: 60 minute Webinar on your approved topic. Listed in DRJ's Calendar of Webcast Events and DRJ's Print Ad Campaign, broadcast to entire list 1 time + exposure on DRJ.com homepage. Cost: $8000 + $.13/minutes per caller*

All options include pre-registration of all participants. You will have access to participants contact information and will receive a recorded copy of the session that you can reference for up to one year.

\ All Webcasts are limited to the first 50 attendees. If the demand is high, at no further cost, we can offer an additional live class or offer the recorded class to anyone interested. You may also choose to utilize your own webinar service and just promote it and have it listed in DRJ's Informational Webinar Series. Gain credibility by associating your webinars with the strong DRJ reputation.*

If you are interested in hosting a monthly Informational Webinar, please complete the following form. Mail to DRJ, P.O. Box 510110, St. Louis, MO 63151 or fax to 636-282-5802.

Some slots have already filled for the year. To check availability or for additional information, contact bob@drj.com or telephone 636-282-5800.

Disaster Recovery Journal has a reputation for innovative educational opportunities. The reliability of our magazine and our conferences is an industry standard. Now, it is time to discover the impact of DRJ on the Internet.

Our world is expanding. To keep in line with the busy lives of today's continuity planners, we're taking our efforts online! Join us as we reach out to practitioners in an informative, easy and concise way.

We are conducting monthly web seminars on a variety of cutting-edge topics. All Webinars are conducted live, allowing time for questions and answers at the end of each session. The webinars are recorded as well to allow attendees unable to attend the live broadcast, the opportunity to view the webcast.

In addition, the recordings allow attendees access to the recorded session for future reference, extending the life of the webcast's message.
